

Armenia

General Information

Population

3 033 500 (World Bank 2024)
2 991 200 (ARMSTAT 2024)

Working-age population

2 034 270 (World Bank 2024)
2 223 200 (ARMSTAT 2023)

Refugees, Asylum seekers, IDPs

Refugees
138 054 (UNHCR 2025)
208 (Migration Service 2022)

Asylum Seekers
914 (UNHCR 2025)
968 (Migration Service 2022)

IDPs
0 (UNHCR 2025)
100 490 (RA Government 2023)

Immigration

274 645 (UN DESA Stock 2024)
48 300 (ARMSTAT Flow 2023)

Unemployment rate

8.3 % (World Bank 2023)
12.4 % (ARMSTAT 2023)

Citizenship

By Birth
No (GLOBALCIT 2024)

By Descent
Yes (conditional) (GLOBALCIT 2024)

Years of Residency

3 years of residence required
(GLOBALCIT 2024)

Emigration

637 604 (UN DESA Stock 2024)
6 900 (ARMSTAT Flow 2023)

GDP

25 955 275 380 current prices
USD (World Bank 2024)
9 453 175 current prices AMD
(ARMSTAT 2023)

Territory

29 743 km<sup>2</sup> (CIA World Factbook)

Data from international sources is updated automatically as it becomes available.

Migration Authorities

Responsible Body

Ministry of Internal Affairs

Line Ministries

Office of the High Commissioner for Diaspora Affairs

Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs

Ministry of Justice

Ministry of Health

Agencies

Migration Service

State Employment Service Agency

National Security Service

Border Guard Troops

Police;

Statistical Committee

Key Policy Documents

Armenia Transformation Strategy 2050

2014-2025 Strategic Program of Prospective Development

Government Programme 2021-2026

National Security Strategy of the Republic of Armenia

The Conceptual framework of the Republic of Armenia for the state

management of migration 2021

2017-2021 Action Plan for Ensuring Border Security and Integrated State Border Management

2008 (2015) Law on Refugees and Asylum

2006 (2019) Law on Foreigners

2001 Law on the State Border

1995 (2010) Citizenship Law

2001 Law on Political Asylum

Agreement between the European Union and the Republic of Armenia on the facilitation of the issuance of visas

Relevant Publications

Russian "Relokanty" in the Caucasus and Central Asia

Emigration from Russia after 24 February 2022: main patterns and developments

We very much welcome the whole-of-route approach

Armenia's migration cooperation with the European Union and Eurasian Economic Union

Closing the policy gaps concerning an eventual mass influx of asylum seekers to Armenia

Assessing Armenia's Migration Strategy for 2017-2021

Armenia Extended Migration Profile 2011

Armenia Migration Profile Light 2014

Migration Profile 2022 Return and Reintegration Facility

Extended Migration Profile 2018-2021

Armenian Migration Profile (2023)

EMN study 2023: Annual report on migration and asylum EMN Observer Country Statistical annex (2023)

The Republic of Armenia has one of the highest emigration rates globally, with an estimated 7 million Armenians living in over 100 countries. Historically, this considerable exodus occurred by virtue of various political and socioeconomic factors within the country.

Labour migration constitutes a viable option for many Armenians, with the Russian Federation being the prime destination. Most Armenian migrants move to urban areas in Russia for employment purposes and typically return home within three to twelve months. In 2021, the number of Armenians who registered their place of residence in Russia exceeded 150,000. Of these, 73% were employed, 20% had family reunification status, and 3% were in Russia for educational purposes. Armenia largely benefits from the resulting remittances, amounting to 7.6% of the GDP in 2023.

Along with Russia, other post-Soviet countries, several EU Member States, the US and Canada are home to the largest ethnic Armenian communities. Since 2019, Poland, Germany, Spain and France issued the lion's share of first-time residence permits to Armenians within the EU. In 2023, Armenians received 9,942 first-time residence permits in the EU, according to the preliminary data. Poland granted most of these residence permits for work reasons (2,643), followed by Spain (230), France (746) and Germany (652 for family reasons, and 893 for other reasons). As most of the work permits Migration of Armenians to Poland is mostly temporary, given that most (2,102) first-time permits were issued for the period from 6 to 11 months. Meanwhile, migration to France and Germany tends to be more long-term, as also confirmed by the number of all valid residence permits at the end of 2023. Some Armenians have also sought legal status in the EU through asylum applications. The peak in applications (8,465) occurred in 2016 with many applicants being Syrians of Armenian ethnic origin holding dual citizenship. While asylum applications declined to 1,875 in 2020, they rose again reaching 6,105 in 2023.

The year 2022 was marked by a significant increase in migration flows towards Armenia, facing the influx of primarily Russian nationals, largely due to Russia's invasion of Ukraine. That year, 16,658 foreigners acquired residency status in Armenia, a fourfold increase compared to 2021. The number of individuals granted permanent residency increased by 2.5 times, while the number of foreigners with temporary residency status saw a fivefold rise, when compared to the previous year. 58% of those granted permanent residency in 2022 in Armenia were Russian nationals, with citizens of Iran, Georgia, and Ukraine also receiving a significant share of such permits. About 56% of foreigners who received permanent residence did so based on their Armenian ethnic origin, while 21% were granted residency due to their entrepreneurial activities in the country. The number of foreigners granted Armenian citizenship in 2022 rose by 150% compared to 2021, while the number of individuals renouncing their Armenian citizenship fell by approximately 22%. Three-quarters of the new Armenian citizens were previously Russian nationals, and 98% of those granted Armenian citizenship were of Armenian ethnic origin.

Compared to the previous four years, the number of individuals seeking asylum in Armenia nearly quadrupled in 2022. While the annual asylum applications ranged between 200 and 260 from 2018 to 2021, in 2022, 964 foreigners and four stateless individuals applied for asylum. Of these, 358 foreigners were granted refugee status. Ukrainian citizens accounted for half of asylum seekers in Armenia, with approximately 60% of them being granted refugee status. A larger number of asylum seekers also came from Iraq and Iran. Following the military operation of Azerbaijan in the Karabakh region in September 2023, 100, 490 Karabakh Armenians fled the region for Armenia.

In 2022, 817 Armenian citizens returned to Armenia, 92% of whom were voluntary returnees, who applied for reintegration programs. Of these, 69% received social assistance, 27% received business assistance, and 4% received employment assistance. The return rates of irregular Armenian migrants from the EU have increased but ever slightly from 22% in 2021 (550 out of 2,530 persons who were ordered to leave actually returned) to 24% in 2023 (680 out of 2,860 persons returned). Most of the returns in 2023 were ordered in France, Germany and Belgium. A comprehensive national strategy for the reintegration of Armenian nationals and the integration of migrants, asylum seekers, refugees and IDPs remains to be adopted.

Armenia has endorsed the Global Compacts on Migration and Refugees and is a member state of the Prague Process. In July 2024, the EU initiated a dialogue on visa liberalisation with Armenia, marking a significant step towards a visa-free regime with the EU. In recent years, the Armenian government has prioritised further development of migration policy, including through the IMPACT project, implemented as part of the EU-funded 'Local Empowerment of Actors for Development' (LEAD) initiative, where ICMPD is partnering with UNDP, Austrian Development Agency and FAO. Since the end of 2022, the management of migration processes has been transferred to the Ministry of Internal Affairs, with the Migration and Citizenship Service restructured as a subordinate entity under the Ministry.

latest update: 9 September 2024